

"last" name, it seems likely that it may have come from the inlet, or sound, at Jupiter.

Parts of Hobe Sound were included in the 12,000 acres of the Gomez Grant, given by Spain to Don Eusebio Gomez, in 1815. In 1821, Gomez sold 3,000 acres, including Jupiter Island, to Joseph Delespine, for $1.00 an acre.

During the land boom in the 1920's, big plans were made for Hobe Sound by the Olympia Improvement Corporation to create a town in the Greek style where motion pictures would be produced. Street names came straight from Greek mythology: Zeus Crescent, Saturn, Mercury, Mars, and Athena, and Hobe Sound was renamed Picture City. When the boom collapsed after the devastating 1928 hurricane, the old name was restored, but the street names exist to this day, as do the cement street lights on Dixie Highway — reminders of a bygone developer's dream.

In 1927, the bridge connecting Hobe Sound to Jupiter Island was built. Also during this time in 1925, classes were held in what was to become the first schoolhouse in Hobe Sound. The two-classroom building remains on Apollo Street, and plans call for it to get a facelift and a new purpose soon.

Generations of Hobe Sounders remember attending the two-room schoolhouse on Apollo Street. Students in grades one and two were in one classroom; grades three, four and five in the other. Perhaps nowhere else in Hobe Sound's growth more evident than in the growth of its school population.

Other mementos of the past are gone — including the ice plant, which was south of Bridge Road, and the old train station, which now, refurbished and relocated west of Hobe Sound, serves as an office building for Becker Groves.

Hobe Sound is ideally situated at the front door of the Gold Coast and the back door of the Treasure Coast, allowing it to borrow the best from each while still retaining its proud heritage and unique personality. Hobe Sound's proximity to the coast affords immediate access to the glorious Atlantic Ocean and the deep-channeled Intracoastal Waterway, which runs from Key West to Boston.

Hobe Sound is poised at the southern end of environmentally-oriented Martin County, which, in 1995, celebrated its 70th birthday. Named after Gov. John W. Martin, what is now Martin County "declared its independence" only after having been in St. Johns County (1821-1824), in Mosquito County (1824-1844), in St. Lucie County (1844-1855), in Brevard County (1855-1866), in Dade County (1866-1909) and in Palm Beach County (1909-1924). ■

GOVERNMENT

Martin County is most visually differentiated from its northern and southern neighbors by its strict enforcement of a maximum four-story building height regulation. In all other areas of environmental interest, whether protecting the endangered manatee (a large, but friendly and harmless mammal that glides up and down the Intracoastal) or preserving its green spaces, the citizens of Martin County lead the way.

Martin County's approximate 555 square mile area is divided into five voting districts, and Hobe Sound is in District 3. The county is governed by a Board of County Commissioners. Commissioners are voted on countywide, but must live within the district they represent.

There are four cities in Martin County: Jupiter Island, Ocean Breeze Park, Sewall's Point and Stuart. Jupiter Island, our closest neighbor, is a barrier island, nine miles long and one-half mile wide. Stuart, the county seat, was named after Homer Stuart.

the son of a New England family who owned the property where the local railroad was built.

An unincorporated part of Martin County, Hobe Sound's boundaries are loosely defined as "north to the Preserve, west to I-95, south to and including Jonathan Dickinson State Park and east to the Intracoastal Waterway."

Just as it is difficult to geographically define Hobe Sound, so is it difficult to determine the population. According to a 1994 demographic profile by Clarke, Martire & Bartolomeo, Inc. (provided by The Stuart News), Hobe Sound's population of adults (18+) was 12,700. Seventy-five percent of our residents are here year-round. Martin County's adult (18+) population was 93,400, according to the same demographic profile. ■

WEATHER

The weather in Martin County, and Hobe Sound, is greatly influenced by the Atlantic Ocean. Gulf Stream breezes keep the summers relatively cool and the winters mild. The average annual high temperature is 83°, average low is 65°, and rainfall totals 54.0" annually, all according to the National Climatic Data Center, covering years 1961-1990. According to records kept by the Data Center, January has the distinction of being the coldest month, August is the warmest month, and September is the wettest month of the year.

With an average temperature around 75° Hobe Sound's summer is tempered by cooling breezes off the ocean. What once primarily was a seasonal town has become a year-round community, thanks in part to those breezes, and in greater part to man's contribution — air conditioning.

Hobe Sound's exit off Interstate 95 (Exit 20) is just seven interesting miles west of Hobe Sound. Bridge Road offers an array of visions as it winds its way, ultimately, to the beach: farms, homes, businesses, a golf club, the heart of the Hobe Sound business district, the bridge over the Indian River for which the road was named, and, finally, the Atlantic Ocean. From farmland to ocean in ten minutes...variety, excitement, history...this is Hobe Sound! ■

LIBRARY

Hobe Sound is served by its own branch of the Martin County Library System. The Hobe Sound branch library is located at 8985 S.E. Bridge Road. There are plans for a new 10,000 sq. ft. branch library for Hobe Sound in the near future.

The library offers reading and other programs of interest to school-age children. It has large print books, videos and a computerized Public Access System.

Currently, the Hobe Sound branch has more than 30,000 volumes, and over 1,500 audiovisual materials, including video tapes, audio books, magazines and newspapers. What it doesn't have in house, the library can quickly retrieve from the main library in Stuart, which houses 100,000 volumes, including an extensive law library, 200 periodicals and more than 13 newspapers. Information that is at the main or other branch libraries can be faxed to the local library quickly, so research opportunities are limitless.

Services of the library are free to

The superintendent of schools, currently an elected position, oversees the school system. School board members serve four-year terms, and, although required to live in the district they represent, are voted on countywide. ■

ORGANIZATIONS

Hobe Sound's personality is derived from its heritage, its location and its civic pride. Volunteerism is an integral part of what Hobe Sound is and who Hobe Sounders are. Whether in classrooms, the library or the churches, when the call for help goes out, volunteers give their time and talent to benefit the community. Organizations identify specific areas of interest and concern and provide help and support where they are needed, making this a much better place to live.

The Boys and Girls Club of Martin County, Inc. (chartered 1991) moved into its new larger location at 11500 S.E. Lares

The Coalition meets in the Hobe Sound Civic Center four times a year. Its meetings are open to the public and membership in the Coalition is encouraged and free.

The GFWC Hobe Sound Women's Club, Inc. works to address the most pressing needs of our community by supporting such programs as Keep Kids Safe, Adopt a Beach, Safe Space, and the Audubon Backyard and School Sanctuary Program. The
